

Working After Retirement

Hard-to-Fill Positions Unchanged

The current hard-to-fill positions will not change for the 2017-2018 school year.

2017-2018 School Year Hard-to-Fill Positions

- English Language and Literature (secondary)
- Science (secondary)
- Elementary Classroom Teacher
- Mathematics (secondary)
- Fine Arts

Each year, the State Board of Education certifies five licensed position types that are the hardest to fill. School districts can hire KPERS retirees to work in these positions without an earnings limit for up to three school years or 36 months, whichever is less.

For more information about working after retirement, see Working After Retirement for Schools in the Employer Manual.
